Seeks equal representation

County school patrons call for redistricting

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County School Board Saturday morning was requested to meet with State Representative J.P. Compretta and district patrons from the south end of the county to consider redistricting the school district to allow two board members from the south end to represent patrons on the board. The request came from Phillip Garcia at the lengthy Saturday meeting attended by some 35 people. Garcia called for "equal representation" on the board, and asked the board to redistrict so that two school board districts will be comprised solely of south end patrons. He said present 'supervisory districts' with district limits running north and south do not allow proper representation, and said the new districts should run east and west so two of the areas are south of I-10.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph said the present system of supervisory districts was established by law and a bill in the state legislature is the only method of having the area redistricted.

Garcia said he does not have any objections to county-wide voting for school board members, but said he wants two representatives on the board from the south end of the county.

When Board Member Monvel Cuevas asked for an explanation, Garcia pointed out that there are 1,031 registered voters for county elections in District Two.

Of those 1,031, only 103 are below I-10 in the south end of the county.

"We feel you represent those 928 in the north end before you represent the 103 in this end. If we ran the district lines east and west, we would have two representatives from this end," Garcia emphasized.

Board President Woodrow Ladner said he will invite Compretta to a meeting Wednesday to discuss the matter.

Also at Saturday's meeting the board conducted a lengthy discussion on whether to allow a student who was previously classified as a special education student to participate in junior-high school sports after failing courses in a regular classroom.

The student had been listed as a special education student while attending North Bay Elementary School, and is now undergoing screening and evaluation to determine if he belongs in a special education class at the county schools.

Randolph said a board policy banning social promotions passed last year forbidding a student who fails academic classes from participating in sports.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce board of directors will welcome new members at a 7:30 p.m. meeting Tuesday at the Chamber office on US-90, Bay St. Louis. The board is expected to discuss final plans for its annual membership banquet and annual Christmas Tree Lighting. Officers for 1980 will be elected following the regular meeting.

HONORED FOR BIRTHDAY

Carl Smith of Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis, will celebrate his 93rd birthday Monday. A birthday cake was presented to Smith at a meeting of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday. Smith, a Paul Harris Fellow, has been a member of the Bay Club for more than 30 years.

ACCIDENT VICTIM AIDED-Chris Wilkinson, left, of Mobile Medic and his associate render emergency assistance to Mrs. Laura Furlan Friday night after she was struck by a car while walking on Booker Street in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Furlan and Mrs. Laurie Adams were taken to Gulfport Memorial Hospital by Mobile Medic, according to police reports. Mrs. Furlan suffered multiple injuries, according to Bay St. Louis Police who investigated the accident. Mrs. Adams was treated and released. See story on Page 8A. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Bay Council ok's utilities survey

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis Council accepted a proposal from Barbay Engineers of Jackson to do a complete gas, water, and sewer rate analysis pending participation in the project by the Community Action Program (CAP).

John Wyatt, representative for CAP at the Tuesday council meeting, said his organization would probably share in the cost of the analysis of the utility systems.

Barbay quoted a price of $4,150 for the study which should take approximately six weeks.

The Concerned Citizens of Bay St. Louis have been trying to get the City Utility System to make a rate survey for sometime.

In other business, the Council viewed a demonstration of a new voting procedure shown by Henry Otis, Hancock County Circuit Clerk.

Otis said the new system will save time and costs through reduction of the number of poll workers needed for an election.

The council questioned what the supervisors were going to do and Otis told them the county would buy the voting machines and would probably rent them to the cities if they wanted to use them.

A lengthy discussion was held about the 1978 Small Cities Project on Washington Street. The contractor's time has expired and the Council was concerned about what steps would be taken for damages against Beta Enterprises, Inc.

The contractors has requested an extension from Brown Engineers, Inc. Joe Brown III said he had sent a request to the contractor requesting more information.

Concern about the amount of road being torn up by the contractor for the sewer installation was discussed with the engineer by the Council.

Brown said that he had reminded the contractor of the fact certain stretches of the road only were to be removed for the installation.

Brown said that the sewer installation should be finished about mid-January at the present rate of work being done on the Small Cities project, if good weather prevails.

The supervisors are supposed to help in the street restoration, according to council members.

Kelly McQueen, city clerk, reported the City had received an LEA grant for one police car and policeman.

Council gave McQueen authority to advertise for the police car, stating the city would pay 20 percent of the cost.

McQueen also received authority to advertise for two trucks requested by Bill Johnson, utilities superintendent. McQueen said monies figured in the budget for the two trucks.

Pass services set for Logan

Funeral services are to be at 2 p.m. today in St. Paul's Catholic Church, Pass Christian for Edward Julius Logan, 37, of 510 Corinth Drive, Bay St. Louis.

Logan died Thursday of injuries suffered in a 7:15 p.m. automobile accident in the 14000 block of Chef Menteur Highway, New Orleans, La. Visitation was Saturday night at Riemann Funeral Home in Pass Christian.

Burial is to be in Live Oak Cemetery.

New Orleans police said Logan's car struck the rear of a truck being driven by Willie Bradley, 45, of New Orleans.

Bradley was charged with driving while intoxicated, police said.

Logan was a native of Natchez, a member of Our Lady of The Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis and an electrical engineer with Ingall's Shipbuilding in Pascagoula.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Wanda Logan, Bay St. Louis; his mother, Mrs. Mrs. Gabriella Logan, Pass Christian; four brothers, William Logan, Lafayette, La., Henry, Charles and Floyd Logan, all of Pass Christian; and four sisters, Mrs. Karl (Billie) Polinque, Port Barre, La., Mrs. Gordon (Ann) Mills, Lafayette, La., Mrs. Keith (Margaret) Hardie and Mrs. Art (Mildred) Buress, both of New Orleans.

Retailers call shrimp season 'fair'

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Virtually all seafood outlets from Pass Christian to Bayou Caddy have titled this year's oyster season a disaster.

Shrimping has been fair at best, seafood retailers report.

A Sea Coast Echo survey Friday found some outlets still have out-of-state oysters available from about $18-$21 a sack and shrimp running approximately $2-$4 a pound.

Generally, there is an abundance of fish and Louisiana crabs with Louisiana crayfish showing strong sales with the season in its fourth week.

Bayou Caddy Fisheries, completely closed five days ago and according to Owner Sylvia Cure, "We'll only open on weekends if we're able to get oysters but, the outlook is very bleak."

"The fishermen aren't doing anything, we're catching some shrimp but that has dropped off since the cold weather and since Monday we had a grand total of 15 sacks of oysters," Cure said. Jordan Bradford, owner of Bradford Seafood and Food Market on Coleman Avenue in Waveland, said, "The oyster season is not good but I think we're getting more oysters than most people are from Louisiana. This week we got about 120 sacks and the week before we got about 300."

"We're mostly an oyster business which has been a disaster and the only shrimp we're getting in any amount are the small sea-bobs," Bradford explained.

"We had a bad oyster season after Camille, but then we had someplace to go, this year, unless Texas does well, there's no place for us to go for oysters," Bradford said.

Bradford added, "We do get a few soft and hard shell crabs."

Carmel's Seafood Owner Carmel Jeanfreau, Lakeshore, said, "The oyster season has been very, very poor and we are coming to the end of the shrimping season."

"The oysters we have are fat, salty and beautiful... but we don't have very many," Jeanfreau said.

"We sold out over the holidays with our prices running about $18-$19 a sack and we've heard that places in Gulfport are selling sacks for about $21," Jeanfreau explained.

Jeanfreau added, "It looks like it's going to be quite a cold winter."

Buddy Rogers, manager of Ladner's Seafood, Bay St. Louis, said, "We've got some oysters but it's tough getting them, everything's dead in Mississippi and Louisiana. We've got a few gallons and half gallons of oysters left."

"Shrimping has been fair with 10-15 count shrimp running about $4 a pound and 40-50 count shrimp running about $2 a pound. But people aren't buying."

"Crabs are going pretty good but with the crayfish season just starting we won't start selling crayfish until January," Rogers added.

Owner John Ladner said, "Florida oyster production has been very good but due to demand the supply is dropping fast. We will be getting some good salty Louisiana oysters but the supply will be light."

Marshall Strong, owner of Standard Seafood Market, Bay St. Louis, stated, "The shrimp are real slow and a few oysters have been coming in from Louisiana but these will be shut down in about a week or two."

"The cold weather will be driving out all the shrimp, and the fresh water from the spillway and Pearl killed all the oysters," Strong explained.

Strong added, "We've got oysters for about $17 a sack and a boat price on two sizes of shrimp about $2-$3 a pound."

Manager John Kimball, Kimball Seafood Market, Pass Christian, commented, "This is a disastrous oyster season and there won't be any oysters in Mississippi for about three years. Any oysters we get will be from out of state from Louisiana or Florida."

"The shrimp will be gone until next May so we've got a cold six months to go before we'll get anything," Kimball said.

Kimball added, "There are a few shrimp left in Mississippi waters but you can't come out with a profit fishing them because of high fuel costs."

Kimball explained on an average three or four day trip it costs $500-$1,000 for fuel, ice and groceries.

Bob Thorpe, owner of Cap'n Bob's Seafood City, US-90 in Waveland, said, "I'm out of oysters and I can't get any. Shrimp are available but they're high."

"People just aren't buying shrimp priced $3-$4 a pound, but we're mostly selling pond crawfish and a lot of crabs. What I get comes from out of town and gasoline is high so that makes prices high," Thorpe explained.

"Hopefully, we'll have a few more oysters next year," Thorpe added. Peterman's Seafood Owner Fred Peterman, Coleman Avenue in Waveland, stated, "I don't have any oysters because they're very expensive and shrimp are scarce, running about $3 a pound."

"We do have beautiful Louisiana crabs and quality crawfish but, I'm not fooling with the oysters because they're too expensive," Peterman explained.

Pat Thorpe, owner of Thorpe's Seafood and Waveland Seafood Co., also on Coleman Avenue in Waveland said, "Oysters are our biggest money-maker but when they opened the spillway it wiped out Mississippi oysters."

"Some oysters are coming in from Florida but it's tough to get them," Thorpe explained.

"We're asking people to eat more fish because we've got beautiful reds, catfish, trout and some flounder," Thorpe added.

Thorpe further explained she had bought some local oysters but had to return them to the fishermen because they were no good.

Teacher allowed to remain in school-owned house

By RICH ADAMS

Following almost an hour of discussion the Hancock County School Board Saturday morning voted three to one to allow Hancock North Central's agricultural-vocational teacher to remain in a school-owned home on the HNC campus.

D.J. Martin, a teacher who has lived in the home for some 16 years rent and utility free, was ordered from the home by the board in October so the home can be used by an assistant principal.

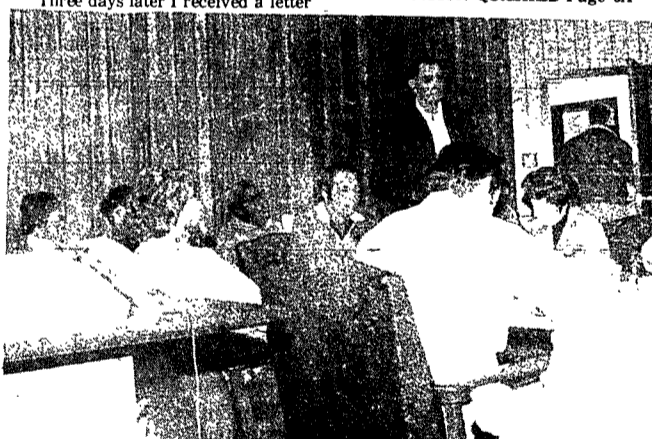

The board said a law passed in the 1960's had required the district to supply the agricultural teacher with a home, but that law had been repealed some five years ago.

Saturday morning the board voted in favor of allowing Martin and his family to remain in the home until June 30, when his current teaching contract with the district expires.

Board Members Johnny Banks and Monvel Cuevas fought for allowing Martin to remain in the home, saying to put him out at mid-term and give him only 90 days to either find a new home or build one is unfair.

Martin, standing, tells the Hancock County School Board that he has lived in a school-owned home on the Hancock North Central campus for 14 or 16 years rent and utility free while acting as a caretaker and watchman for the school grounds. The board attempted to evict Martin so an assistant principal could move into the home at the end of this month, but decided Saturday Martin could remain in the home until June 30, when his present contract expires. The board is requiring Martin to pay utilities. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL — THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mississippi's highway system has come a long way since Governor Hugh White promised over 40 years ago to get the state "out of the mud, dust, and gravel."

But, the state's highway system continues to remain a major issue despite the fact that more than $450 million a year is spent on the state's roads.

The major problem is that highway maintenance and construction have not kept pace with the transportation demands of a state straining to grow. The state needs a good highway system to serve its growing economy—for without a good system, any chances of economic advancement are greatly hindered.

The Mississippi Economic Council has taken an in-depth look at the state's road systems and recommends:

—The State Highway Commission should continue to select, construct, and maintain the mileage on the state highway system with priority assigned on a traffic count basis.

—The revenue from motor fuel sales tax should be set aside for highways, roads, and streets, and should be determined on a cents-per-gallon basis.

—The proceeds from any additional highway bond issues should be set aside for use on principal highways.

—The formula for distributing motor fuel tax revenues to the state, counties, and cities should be revised for more equitable distribution.

—Highway weighing limits should be increased to 80,000 pounds on those presently authorized for 73,280 pounds and adequate user charges imposed to cover increased maintenance and construction costs.

—An appointed Highway Commission

of Five members to replace the present elected Commission.

—The High Commission, elected or appointed, should be limited to policy making and approval of bids and other contracts. And, the Commission would select a director of the State Highway Department subject to confirmation by the Senate.

—Require that county roads be administered under a county board-manager plan.

The state's highway system and other vital issues of concern to the future of Mississippi will be on the agenda for MEC's 1979 Legislative Forums to be conducted in five geographical areas of the state.

Members of the state Legislature, the governor-elect, Lieutenant governor-elect, other state officials, and all interested citizens are invited and encouraged to take part in the Forums designed to invite discussion, debate, and information exchange between the state's business and professional people and governmental leaders.

All Forums start at 9:30 a.m. and continue through lunch. They will be held at the following locations: November 27, Jackson, Delta Hall, Holiday Inn Downtown; November 28, Greenwood, Ramada Inn; November 29, Tupelo, Ramada Inn Convention Center; December 4, Biloxi, Coronet Room, Broadwater Beach; and December 5, Hattiesburg, Commons Rooms A, B, and C, University of Southern Mississippi.

We have a very important center in Hancock!

The recent opening of Hancock County Industries at the corner of US-90 and Drinkwater Road has meant very much to some 20 residents of the area.

The program of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center is supported by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, State Department of Public Welfare and the Hancock United Way.

The object of Hancock Industries is to help the developmentally disabled by teaching not only vocational skills but daily living skills as well.

When the program started in mid-October there were only 13 people working and now the force has been increased to 20, according to George Graves, director. The facilities are capable of handling 30 persons, Graves noted.

If you have passed down US-90 recently you may have seen several of the workers sitting by a table displaying macrame items, Christmas decorations, mail boxes and very beautiful center pieces.

You as a citizen can help make this center be very successful by purchasing items made by these people. You can also help by referring someone to the center whom you may think can qualify for the program.

Clients must have had a disability before the age of 18 and have been rejected by the regular vocational rehabilitation processing as not trainable to qualify for that program.

Graves says an important task is to try and teach these people the basis of everyday living in personal hygiene, nutrition, and personal finances.

There is a staff of people who help in all the facets of teaching the personal skills as well as the skills of making items to sell.

Graves says the biggest thrill for these people is when payday rolls around. They are given an opportunity of making a few dollars in the items sold at the Hancock Industries. Of course first the price of the materials used in the products must be deducted.

The Center also offers people with skills in janitorial, yard work, etc., jobs which require four or five people. The workers will be supervised by a staff member.

If you have a job, give Mr. Graves a call at 467-0732 and he can tell you if they would be able to perform the task.

We are glad to see such a fine program a reality in Hancock County. There were several people responsible for acquiring the program and we think they should all be commended.

The Board of Supervisors, the businessmen and every person who contributes to the United Way of Hancock County and the State Public Welfare play an important roll in the operation of Hancock County Industries.

Graves and his entire staff should all be given recognition for the fine job they have done in just a few short weeks.

If you are in the area, stop by, you may see some item you have been looking for and haven't been able to find.

PRIZE COW SHOT—H. (Bully) Zengarling views six year old black Angus cow on his Bayou LaCrosse Farm apparently shot by deer hunters at night. Zengarling, the cow, with calf and due in two months, was shot Tuesday night. Zengarling, Hancock County Sheriff's officers and Game and Fish Wardens are concerned with the fact that it is illegal to shine for deer and someone had to cross two fences to get in the pasture where the cow lay dead. Deputy Dennis Tartavouille said it looked like buckshot was used in the shooting. Deer hunters and any other hunters should respect the property of others. Those who cannot tell the difference between a deer and a cow shouldn't be allowed out in the city much less the woods. We have been told some leads have been gathered by law officials and we hope the culprit is nabbed.

ANOTHER HUNTING VICTIM—This one-year-old horse owned by Mrs. Ann Franzen of Silver Creek Acres narrowly escaped death from a rifle slug in his neck last weekend. Mrs. Franzen hopes the young horse will recover. He is being treated by a veterinarian. Horses are not deer, and hunters who cannot distinguish the difference should use guns that shoot corks.

Health Tip

Preventive measures cut health care costs

By TIM CUEVAS
Pharmacy Student, University of Mississippi

Preventive health care is one of the primary ways to overcome the increasingly high cost of medical care. By taking certain measures you may be able to reduce the chances of becoming sick, and therefore be able to eliminate high, unwanted health care bills.

Proper nutrition is one of the primary steps to take in maintaining proper health. Most Americans usually have plenty to eat, but due to improper eating habits, some individuals do not get the proper nutrients that they require.

This type of malnutrition is especially common in children.

Diet improvements for the average American would include an increase in vegetables, fruit, milk, and milk products, with a decrease in ready-made baked goods and soft drinks.

Also breakfast should be considered the most important meal and it should be nutritionally complete.

Over-indulgence is as much a problem as not eating enough. Overeating, especially foods high in carbohydrates, can lead to diseases such as diabetes, arthritis, and many heart-related maladies.

Proper exercise is also important if a person wants to keep healthy. Exercise keeps muscle tone firm, improves the function of the heart, and also improves circulation. A person needs to be careful and not overexert at any one time, but he should exercise gradually.

The family of the deceased receives a prompt acknowledgment of your memorial gift. You receive a receipt for your tax-deductible contribution.

Emotional stress and anxiety should be handled by going directly to the source and trying to eliminate the cause. Taking life more calmly and not becoming overexcited about everyday problems can lead to a healthier as well as happier life.

Periodic checkups can be useful in detecting diseases and illnesses in their early stages. If a disease is detected in the early stages than treatment will be usually be possible before the disease progresses into a more serious condition.

If medication does become necessary the person should follow the directions closely.

Drugs may interact with each other, therefore a person should avoid taking several drugs at the same time without first checking with a pharmacist. There are many other preventive measures that can be taken. Some examples of these are prenatal care and poison prevention.

SALTY SALLY

"Craftsmanship" is the result of one's skill. "Shoddy craftsmanship" is the result of the lack of it.

Bits 'n pieces

A lot of emphasis is placed in the fall session in neighboring states on the beautiful scenes each year.

Many of us flock to the mountains for vacations to enjoy the views and yet fail to realize the beautiful sights we have right here in Hancock County.

In driving through the county on several ventures, we could not but notice just how beautiful our woods are with so many shades of fall.

Even within our city limits, many trees are very beautiful in their fall colors.

The next time you are out, look around and appreciate the many colors here in our own community.

We have to agree with the decision of the Bay St. Louis Police Department to stop the Iranian flag burning as planned by several youth of our area Wednesday when the flag reportedly did not show up.

The intentions of the St. Stanislaus and Bay Senior High Students may have been good, but small gatherings like they planned could have continued to grow until someone ended up getting hurt.

The local hunting areas (and somewhere hunting is not permitted) are full of folks with rifles and shotguns.

We know of three shooting incidents the past week which should have never occurred.

The young lad injured on a tree stand mistaken for a squirrel, the cow killed apparently by deer shiners (which we are told is strictly illegal) and the young horse injured by a rifle slug in his neck.

Many, including ourselves are almost afraid of going into the woods hunting because we are afraid someone may mistakenly shoot the wrong target.

Our request to all hunters is to make sure you know what you are shooting at before you fire. Once a gun is fired the bullets cannot be recalled, the damages are done.

Please be careful hunting!

Well, Thanksgiving is now behind us and everyone is scurrying about Christmas shopping.

Our local merchants have an array of fine Christmas gifts for every age and we hope you will shop at home this holiday season.

By shopping at home you not only help your local merchants but the whole community as well.

With a total of 82 counties in the state, Hancockians should be ashamed of the fact that we are rated number two in the total of woods fire.

Our woods are far too beautiful to be scared by fires which also burn homes, kill trees and animals.

Let all of us be very careful about woods fires.

We have a special delivery of letters from our young to Santa's Workshop at the North Pole. Santa is now very busy planning gifts for all ages.

We will be publishing some of the letters in the Sea Coast Echo and Santa may even answer some of the letters personally.

We suggest you get together with your mom or dad and write your letter to Santa and address it to:

We hope Santa will deliver your every gift wish Christmas day.

He will be waiting for your letters, and if you wish a personal reply from Santa, give your return address.

Diamondhead Association president clarifies position

November 20, 1979
Mr. Wayne Ducomb, Jr.
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mr. Ducomb:

As per our telephone conversation of yesterday, this is to further advise you that you were completely in error in reporting a statement charged to me at a meeting of the Hancock Planning Commission on Wednesday, November 14th.

You quote me as having said that the Diamondhead Community Association, of which I am currently president, threatened a class action suit against Diamondhead Corporation. This is, to say the least, totally incorrect. At the request of a number of Diamondhead residents, I attended this meeting knowing full well that the commission had no authority over Diamondhead, which is private property. These people had been so advised prior to the meeting.

During the course of the meeting, and after charges had been made by three or four of the residents in attendance, I was called upon for a statement.

I reported that a meeting had been requested by the officers and board members of the Diamondhead Community Association with Diamondhead Corporation executives. This request had been granted and a meeting had been held some four weeks ago.

At this meeting the Diamondhead Corporation representatives were apprised of many deficiencies which the residents felt existed in the way of maintenance of the Country Club, golf course and roads. For the most part, the complaints were justified. The following day, three of the corporation's key people were seen making a personal inspection of the property. Immediately thereafter things began to happen. The Country Club and the golf course are undergoing a complete face-lifting, and many roads have been repaired. We have been assured that this work will be carried on to completion.

For your further information, the photographs displayed to the Commission were taken prior to the above-mentioned work program, and these deficiencies had been corrected prior to the Commission meeting.

The writer wishes to apologize for the length of this letter, but felt it necessary to correct any wrong impressions that readers of your account may have toward Diamondhead. The majority of the residents feel that Diamondhead is every bit the "Paradise" it is advertised to be, and will one day be a leading community in the State.

Again, I would like to reiterate the purpose of this letter, which is that neither I nor any member of the Diamondhead Community Association, to my knowledge, ever threatened a class action suit against Diamondhead Corporation and no such statement was made at your meeting.

Thanking you for your kind indulgence, I am,

Sincerely,
A. F. Doussan, Jr.
Diamondhead Community Association President

Solar energy booklet free

Solar energy systems are not as complicated as many Americans believe. In fact, solar technology is "surprisingly simple," and is already cutting energy costs for thousands of U.S. homeowners according to a free publication from the National Wildlife Federation entitled, "Solar Energy and the Homeowner."

The new 16-page pamphlet is an introduction to commonly-used solar energy systems. "Hot water and pool heating are the most common applications for solar systems, with space heating becoming less expensive as the market rapidly expands," explains the publication. Solar electricity via power lines, however, will probably not arrive until 1990, barring some major technological breakthrough.

In California alone, there are already 10,000 domestic water heaters and 3,000 space heating and cooling systems. Basic solar systems - active, passive, direct, indirect, air, and liquid - are explained in the pamphlet with diagrams illustrating how the systems work.

In addition, there's a section on how to assess your "solar potential." For example, before considering installation of a solar system, homeowners "must make certain the house is well insulated to minimize heat loss," the booklet advises.

Climate, available sunshine, exposure, and the structure of the home must also be considered.

Because there are currently no industry-wide standards for solar equipment, the publication warns consumers to deal only with licensed contractors, obtain and check carefully references from the contractor's past customers, and investigate a contractor's credentials with local solar organizations and the Better Business Bureau.

"Solar Energy and the Homeowner" is available free for the first copy and 25 cents for each additional copy by writing: National Wildlife Federation, Dept. SE, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

THREATENED SPECIES - No, it's not from outer space, or an animal put together by Rube Goldberg. It's a South American anteater known as the tamandua, according to International Wildlife magazine. Although its claws are switchblade-sharp, the tamandua has more to fear from man than vice versa. Cutting of forests and cultivation of savannas by man are threatening the anteater's habitat and continued existence.

Shopping For A New High Fidelity System?

There's a vast array of sophisticated high fidelity equipment in the stores today and it's a good idea to set some guidelines as to the kind of sound system you need and the amount you want to spend for it, says the Electronic Industries Association.

There are three basic packaging approaches to sound reproduction, according to EIA - compact systems, console furniture systems and components.

Compacts consist of a control center including at least one program source, such as a turntable, possibly also an AM/FM tuner and sometimes an eight-track or cassette tape deck, plus two bookshelf type speakers.

These systems are easy to operate and require a minimum amount of space in the home because they are purchased as a package, with the manufacturer matching the speakers to the control center. Manufacturer product specifications on this type of product have been steadily upgraded.

Consoles offer the look of fine furniture and often include an automatic turntable, AM/FM stereo receiver, and matched speaker systems. Some include a tape deck.

Separate audio components are ideal for those who prefer to match up their own system. You may want to purchase a turntable and/or one of the three basic tape formats - open reel, cassette or eight-track. In order to enjoy AM or FM stereo radio, you'll need a tuner, which pulls the broadcast signals out of the air. Then you may want to couple the tuner to an amplifier and even a pre-amplifier. Many people, on the other hand, select a receiver, which combines in one unit a tuner and an amplifier.

US Labor Department restores back wages

Some $710,067 in back wages was restored to 4,490 employees during Fiscal Year 1979 (10-1-78-9-30-79) as a result of investigations made by the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division area office at Mobile, Ala.

Violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) accounted for the major portion of underpayments by employers, according to Area Director William L. Chappell.

He reported 4,182 workers received $603,878 in back wages due them because employers had failed to comply with the minimum-wage, overtime-pay and equal pay provisions of the FLSA. (On July 1, 1979, enforcement of the equal-pay provisions was transferred from the Labor Department to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission).

In the eight-state region consisting of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee, $21,914,617 was restored to 125,858 employees.

Of these, 117,620 received $18,905,206 in back wages under minimum-wage, overtime-pay and equal-pay provisions of the FLSA. Chappell said the majority of employers voluntarily paid the back wages due, but some paid as a result of court action brought by the secretary of labor in behalf of the affected employees.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1980, all workers covered by the act must be paid at least $3.30 an hour. The current hourly wage is $2.90.

San Fillippo, Mitchell exchange vows at Our Lady of the Gulf

Melanie San Fillippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic San Fillippo Sr. of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Andrew Paul Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thomas Mitchell of Waveland, at a Nuptial Mass Saturday afternoon, Oct. 20, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Father Louis Lohan performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, fuji mums, pink carnations and eucalyptus flanked by palm greenery.

Scripture readings were by Mary Ann Scianna. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Olive McKenna, organist, and Mrs. Rose Ann Thomas, vocalist, who sang 'I Love You Truly,' 'Because,' 'Come Walk the World with Me' and 'Gentle Savior.'

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and a raised bodice of reembodyed Alencon lace enhanced by a satin ribbon.

The fitted sleeves of matching lace were softened by an overlay of crystal pleated chiffon. The slender skirt and chapel length train were accented by a wide band of Alencon lace and a deep border of crystal pleated chiffon. Her chapel length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of lace and pearls edged by matching lace. She wore a diamond pendant necklace, a gift of her parents and carried a bouquet of silk gladioli florets, baby's breath, lily of the valley and white and pink roses interspersed with ribbon.

Mrs. Bridget Barbler of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as matron of honor, and Lora Wolsfeld, also of Bay St. Louis, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lynda San Fillippo, sister-in-law of the bride, Meraux, La.; Mrs. Kay Bermond, Long Beach; Mrs. Angela Storey and Pam Jordan, both of Bay St. Louis; and Roxanne Darbonne, Jefferson, La.

Junior bridesmaids were Linda Scianna, Bay St. Louis, Donna Mitchell and Sandra Mitchell, Waveland, sisters of the groom.

Ricky Mitchell, Waveland, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Paul San Fillippo, Meraux, La.; Dominic San Fillippo Jr., Bay St. Louis, and James San Fillippo, Gretna, La., brothers of the bride; Gene Bermond, Long Beach; Randy Perniclaro, Gulfport; and David Nichols, Shreveport, La.

Ricky Marquar of New Orleans and Philip Barbier, Bay St. Louis, served as ushers.

The bridesmaids wore chiffonette gowns in a deep Venetian rose hue featuring blouson styling, butterfly sleeves and crystal pleated skirts.

They carried free form silk bouquets of mauve pink roses, gladioli florets, baby's breath, eucalyptus and rose foliage and wore headpieces of gladioli florets and baby's breath.

The junior bridesmaids, attired in matching gowns, carried wicker baskets of mauve pink blossoms with matching ribbon streamers and wore hairpieces of forget-me-nots and baby's breath.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Jordan River Shores clubhouse where Mrs. San Fillippo welcomed guests wearing a light mauve pink gown featuring a bodice of softly gathered lace, rolled neckline, capelet sleeves and crystal pleated qiana skirt.

She wore a corsage of deep mauve silk roses.

Mrs. Mitchell chose a pale pink qiana princess style gown topped by a long sleeve fitted jacket. A corsage of pink and burgundy silk roses completed her ensemble.

Arrangements of white and pink blossoms and palm greenery decorated the reception hall; a garden scene was created in the center with flowers and greenery in a natural setting. The bride's table held a four tier wedding cake decorated with pale pink spun sugar roses. Candelabra with white fuji mums and pink carnations were on either side.

For their wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the bride wore a deep mauve shadow print blouson style dress fashioned with a rolled neckline, crystal pleated skirt, claret accessories and a corsage of light mauve pink sweetheart roses.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests at the event included:

Mrs. Nester Andras, Sr., Miss Gaynell Andras, Jr., and Mrs. William J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford deLaup,

Mrs. Edward Mason, Miss Donna Clark, Mr. Donald Sperier, Mrs. Yarmilla Subvoda, Mr. Rickey Marquar, Mr. Anthony Traub, Miss Audrey Traub, Miss Carole Hood, Mrs. Walter Gehrke, Mrs. George V. Wynne, Taylor wed at Holy Name of Jesus

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dayries Wynne announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Judy Anne Wynne to David Provosty Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Daniel Taylor, Jr. of Pass Christian.

Their marriage was solemnized Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Church of the Most Holy Name of Jesus in New Orleans with a reception immediately following the ceremony at the Southern Yacht Club.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of English net embroidered with appliques of Alencon lace as was her full-length veil of illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of Hawaiian lilies and Stephanotis.

Mrs. William Dean Westphal of New Orleans served her sister as matron-of-honor and the other bridal attendants were Mmes. William Hulsey Sewell and George Shelby Friedrichs Jr., also sisters of the bride; Mrs. Robert Edward Vadal of Pueblo, Colo., and Miss Titine Louise Taylor, sisters of the bridegroom; Mrs. Jeffrey Howard Cromwell and Miss Jane Wynne Sewell, niece of the bride.

Miss Ellen Somers Wynne and Miss Sally Anne Sewell, nieces of the bride served as flower girls. Their bouffant dresses were of pink net trimmed with a wide lace bertha. Miss Sewell's dress had been worn by the bride when she was a flower-girl in her sister's wedding.

Dr. Taylor served his son as best man, and the groomsmen were Messrs. Charles Michel Taylor, Daniel Dyer Taylor, Christopher Harrison Taylor, Timothy Pattison Taylor, and Jeffrey Pandely Taylor, all brothers of the bridegroom; Thomas Charles Fritchard; and Douglas Vincent Freret Wynne, Christopher William Wynne Vincent Freret Wynne, and Arthur Dayries Wynne, Jr., all brothers of the bride.

The bride whose mother is the former Miss Jane Adair Freret, graduated from Mercy Academy and attended St. Mary's Dominican College and Louisiana State University, where she was affiliated with Chi Omega sorority. Several Carnival seasons ago, she was a maid in the courts of the balls of The Olympians and the Krewe of Nereus.

She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Reillieux Freret and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Howell Wynne.

Mr. Taylor, whose mother was the former Miss Ruth Provosty, was graduated from St. Stanislaus College in Bay St. Louis and from the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, where he received a bachelor of science degree.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Michel Provosty and the late Mr. Provosty of New Orleans and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Daniel Taylor.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico the couple are making their home in New Orleans.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club changes decorations rules

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club reports changes in this year's Christmas decorations contest include discouragement of lighting due to the energy crisis.

Judging will be based solely on decorations, a club spokesman said.

In the residential division, awards will be limited to doorways and entries. Plaques and ribbons will be awarded to first, second and third place entries.

In the commercial division, a separate plaque will be given to the best entry for Waveland and Bay St. Louis. An invitation has been issued by the club to all residents and merchants to participate in this event.

According to Mrs. J. Robert Autenreith, decorations committee chairman, participants should register before Dec. 17 by mailing a notice of entry, including name and address, to Committee Chairman, Decorations Contest, 110 Bay View Court, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

Judging will be Thursday, Dec. 20.

Bay pedestrians injured when struck by auto

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Two pedestrians were injured when struck by a vehicle driven by Joseph Bontemps, 21, Friday night on Bookter Street, according to Bay St. Louis Chief of Police Douglas Williams.

Mrs. Laura Furlan of 418 Bookter St. sustained multiple injuries, including lacerations of the face and hands, possible pelvic fracture, possible internal injuries, and amputation of right index finger, according to police.

Mrs. Laurie Adams, 418 Bookter, struck on her left thigh, was treated and released from Gulfport Memorial Hospital, police said. Mobile Medic transferred the accident victims to the hospital.

The police department was summoned at 5:27 p.m. to investigate a personal injury accident on Bookter Street just west of St. Stanislaus Stadium, and upon arriving at the scene they found that a vehicle had struck the two women.

A 15-year-old juvenile was a passenger in the car, and police say that Bontemps told them that he was adjusting his rear view mirror and did not see Mrs. Furlan or Mrs. Adams until he was right on them.

The pair were walking west on the right side of the road and Mrs. Furlan was struck by the right front fender just above the headlight and apparently flung upward hitting the top portion of the hood and rolling toward the right side of the car, according to Chief Williams.

Bontemps, whose address was listed as Rt. 4, Bay St. Louis was cited for reckless driving, police report.

The accident was investigated by Bay St. Louis Investigator Jim Mallini, assisted by Assistant Chief Frank Hess and Officer Alton Benoit.

Mrs. Faith Johnson, nursing supervisor at Gulfport Memorial, reported Mrs. Furlan was in a stable condition Saturday afternoon, suffering a fractured pelvis.

Assessor, deputy attend conference

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The 50th annual conference of assessors and tax collectors was attended by Edward (Eddie) Murtagh, Hancock assessor-tax collector and Yvonne Ladner, deputy assessor last week in Jackson.

The three day conference featured Governor Cliff Finch and Lieutenant Governor-elect Brad Dye as principal speakers.

Governor-elect William Winter told the officials about his plans for the future of Mississippi.

Workshops were held in all facets of assessor-tax collector operations, according to Murtagh.

A lengthy discussion was held on the equal assessment which the State has to implement by 1983. A suit asking properties be assessed at 100 percent of value is being appealed.

Murtagh said Hancock County property is assessed at 15 percent of value.

An important discussion was held on the new exemption for persons declared 100 percent disabled by social security as of Jan. 1, 1980 they will receive the same exemption as persons over 65.

Persons with 100 percent disability and not covered by social security may also qualify for the exemption.

Murtagh urged persons needing more information to give him a call.

Joe Sharp, motor comptroller, for Mississippi, talked about the possibility of a state-wide hook-up by computer through South Central Bell lines for assessors-tax collectors for use on auto tags.

"We now have to make a telephone call to Jackson to check for owner identification now and it takes time plus money. If we had a direct hook-up we could get the information from the central computer in only seconds," Murtagh commented.

Murtagh's wife and Ladner's husband accompanied the two Hancock officials to the conference.

Redistricting.....

does not apply to special education students.

Cuevas argued that the student has not been classified as a special education child in the county system yet and should fall under the same rules as other students.

Woodrow Ladner said the child should not be allowed to participate in sports if he cannot pass school.

"We will have a fantastic basketball team which cannot read or write," Ladner stated.

Cuevas said he does not know if the child should be allowed to participate in sports because he has not been classified as a special education student.

Banks made a motion to allow the student to participate in sports despite the failing grades, which was seconded by Louie Ladner.

During discussion Randolph said the child should not be penalized because he is a special education student.

Woodrow Ladner suggested the board wait until the child is evaluated next week and then make a decision. Randolph said the screening may take three or four weeks, and no pre-judgment may be made before that time.

Banks and Louie Ladner voted in favor of the motion to allow the student to participate in sports, but Cuevas and Woodrow Ladner voted against the issue and it was defeated.

Hancock victorious

The Hancock North Central Hawk basketball team came out fired up after a halftime deficit of 32-26 to claim a 61-48 win over Jonesboro, Alabama, increasing their season wins to three with no losses.

Hawk Moses Hill was top scorer for the Hancock five as he sent 17 points through the hoop.

Jonesboro's 6' 7.5" Rob Drum was taken from the game with four fouls early in the third period giving the smaller Hancock team the edge as Guards Byron and Michael Ladner combined for 14 assists during the contest.

Steve Nunn scored 15 points, and Byron Ladner hooped 13 during the hardcourt battle.

Drum netted 19 points in the first half for the Jonesboro squad.

Hancock is skippered by Head Coach Roland Ladner.

Eviction Quashed.....

renewed, no mention was made to have him evicted from the home or to have him pay rent or utilities.

Randolph then pointed out that allowing Martin to live in the home rent free constitutes donating public property and is against the law.

Martin said he has been in charge of overseeing the school buildings and grounds while living in the house, and feels these services are rendered instead of paying rent.

Randolph then countered by stating that as long as Martin remained in the house the school district will be open to a class-action suit by other teachers for discrimination.

After much discussion, Banks made the motion to allow Martin to remain in the home until his contract expires at the end of June, adding that he must pay utilities on the property.

"I think it is immoral to ask a professional person to move out of a house he has lived in for 16 years at mid-term. I vote not to treat anyone like this. He has given us all these years for the betterment of education, and I think we should show a little respect," Banks told the board.

Board Member Louie Ladner said he was going to vote against the issue because Gulfview Elementary Football Coach and Teacher Curtis Thaxton is living on campus at that school without paying rent.

"We should have respect for Mr. Martin, but I also believe we are leaving ourselves open for a lawsuit and I respect state law," Ladner said.

Cuevas, Banks, and Board President Woodrow Ladner voted in favor of allowing Martin to remain at the house while Louie Ladner voted against the issue.

Board Member Oris Ladner was absent.

Louie Ladner then made a motion that the district charge Martin $100 per month rental fee in order to clear the board from any legal action.

Woodrow Ladner vacated the presidency to second Louie Ladner's motion.

Banks said Thaxton should be asked to pay rent also since he lives rent and utility free in a school home, but Ladner said the coach was asked by the board to move into the house and keep watch on the school grounds.

The motion failed, however, when Banks and Cuevas opposed the issue.

Cuevas moved that the board allow both Thaxton and Martin make periodic patrols of the school grounds in exchange for $100 a month rent, and added that Thaxton should be made to pay his utilities.

Woodrow Ladner again vacated his chair to second the motion.

Board Attorney Joseph Gex said the action will be "safer, but will not entirely relieve" the possibility of a lawsuit against the board.

Banks objected to the motion, saying Thaxton should be at the meeting to represent himself before the board assesses any extra utility fees on him. The motion was passed by a three to one margin, Banks voting against the issue.

Sandra Gray, a teacher at Hancock North Central, said that she was speaking as an employee of the district and said the board is leaving itself open to legal action.

"To keep the board from being slapped with a lawsuit, I think Mr. Martin and Mr. Thaxton should offer to pay the $100 a month rent," Gray said.

Hancock wins Ladner Bowl with come-from-behind effort

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock North Central Hawks rebounded from a 13-0 deficit near halftime to bring home a come-from-behind 18-13 victory over a tough Pearl River, Louisiana team in the 1979 Wendell Ladner Bowl last week.

The Hawks, led by Head Coach Irvin Favre, won the fifth annual event Wednesday night at Hawk Stadium to bring the large trophy to HNC.

The Hawks lost a similar come-from-behind game last season against Lumberton. Hancock won the toss and elected to receive.

The Rebels kicked off without a tee, causing short rolling kicks which bobbled end-over-end into Hawk territory.

The opening kickoff rolled out of bounds on the HNC 40 yard line and the Hawks had the ball with a first-and-10 situation.

Quarterback Bobby DeVaughn called a combination of runs alternating between Willy Santiago and Lloyd Henry, moving the ball to the Pearl River 28 yard line.

Henry shared the Most Valuable Offensive Player award with the Rebel's Scott Craddock.

An off side penalty moved the ball to the 23, and following two short one-yard gainers by Henry, the Hawks were faced with a fourth-and-three situation.

DeVaughn ran an option left, winging the ball to Santiago, but the Hawks missed the first down by one yard and the Rebels took possession.

On the first play from scrimmage Edward Moran romped for a 50 yard gain, but the run was nullified by a clipping infraction called against the Rebels.

Pearl River was forced into a punting situation deep in their own territory after failing to move the ball, and Hancock received the punt on the HNC 49 yard line.

Henry and Santiago picked up three yards apiece to the Pearl River 43, but a mouthpiece penalty set them back five yards.

DeVaughn attempted an aerial to Brandon Berry, but Berry was tripped up by a Rebel defensive player as they both went for the ball and the pass fell incomplete.

Faron Hoda was called upon to punt for the Hawks, and Pearl River took over on their own 17 yard line.

Quarterback Ricky Pittman attempted an opening aerial to Joe Harris, but Santiago got his fingertips on the ball and broke up the play.

Ladner Bowl.....

Scott Craddock, who gained 148 yards and shared the offensive MVP award, swept right for a 37 yard gain and a first down.

Two plays later Craddock swept the same side of the field for a 14 yard gainer, putting the ball on the HNC 41 yard line with a first down.

Harris rushed for eight yards, and then the Hawks were penalized for an offside infraction, giving the Rebels a first down early into the second stanza.

Craddock again swept right along the sidelines through the Hawk defense for a gain of 26 yards and a touchdown with 11:08 remaining in the second period.

Richard Thompson's conversion attempt was good and the Rebels had the Hawks 7-0.

Hancock took the ensuing kickoff on the Rebel 47 yard line as Keith Glass picked up the on-side, bobbling kick.

Devaughn called a keeper and romped through a large hole in the defensive line for a gain of 20 yards to the Pearl River 27 yard line.

Two plays later Larry Peterson, the Hawk's 230-pound fullback, fumbled the ball on the 26 and the Rebels recovered.

Moran took the first play for a gain of 23 yards, followed by another long romp by Harris for a 17 yard gain.

Pearl River was penalized to the 28 yard line by a clipping penalty, but Hancock was penalized 15 yards two plays later for a personal foul.

Pearl River was penalized twice for offside infractions, giving them a first-and-20 situation on their own 49 yard line.

Pittman then hit Craddock with a 20 yard aerial for a first down, the ball resting on the Hawk 28 yard line.

Harris then took the call, ran to the left until he saw the defense close the hole, cut right, and outdistanced the Hawk defenders for a 29 yard touchdown run with 6:57 remaining in the half.

Thompson's conversion was no good, and the Rebels led 13-0.

Hancock took the ensuing kickoff on the Rebel 45 yard line, and nine-yard gainers by Henry and Devaughn moved the ball to the 28 yard line and gave the Hawks a first down.

Devaughn then gained 21 yards on two keepers to place the ball on the 10 yard line with a first down.

After a pass attempt to Rene Baum was incomplete, the Hawks were penalized five yards for an illegal procedure infraction.

Devaughn hit Henry on a screen pass for a 10 yard gainer, and fourth-and-six situation from the seven, Santiago ran up the middle for a score with 1:56 remaining in the half.

Devaughn overthrew Baum in a two-point conversion attempt, and the Hawks were back in the game 13-6.

Pearl River received the ensuing kickoff, but an illegal blocking penalty placed them on their own 11 yard line.

Craddock swept right for a 13 yard gain, and following a two yard romp by Harris, Craddock again swept right for a 23 yard gainer and a first down on the 47 yard line.

Harris picked up eight yards for the Hawk 45, and then Craddock picked up the first down with a two yard gainer.

Pittman went to the air for the first time in the contest and hit Jimmy Monroe for a 15 yard gain and a first down on the Hawk 28 yard line.

Pittman again threw to Monroe, but this time Baum was in the path and intercepted the pass for the Hawks.

The half ended with Devaughn attempting passes to his receivers in an attempt to even the score before returning to the lockerroom.

The Hancock North Central Marching Band performed at halftime, and Denise Beech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Beech, was crowned the Wendell Ladner Bowl queen.

Pearl River took the Hawk's kickoff at the 38 yard line following a Hancock personal foul infraction, and on a third-and-five situation Craddock attempted another sweep.

The defense read the play however, and stopped the dangerous running back after a gain of three.

The Rebels punted, and Santiago returned the kick to the Hawk 39, a gain of 20.

After Devaughn kept the ball for a gain of five and a first down, Santiago fumbled the ball and the Rebels recovered.

After three short gains and a four-and-one situation, Pittman dropped back to punt.

The snap went to Harris, however, who rushed for one yard and the first down.

Pittman attempted a pass to Harris, but it was blocked by Henry, who also had an outstanding defensive night.

Two plays later Pittman moved to a split end position and Craddock took over signal-calling duties at the helm, hitting Pittman for a gain of 28 and a first down.

With the ball on the 18 yard line Moran fumbled and Berry pounced on the loose ball to give Hancock a first-and-ten on the 15 yard line.

Devaughn suffered a cramp in his leg and Kent Deschamps was called into the game to call signals for the Hawks.

After a fumble and a short gain by Henry, Santiago took the call up the middle for a 15 yard romp and a first down, placing the ball on the HNC 30 yard line.

Devaughn returned to the game and tossed a screen to Santiago for a gain of nine.

Two plays later after the start of the final stanza Henry broke loose and rambled for a gain of 26 to put the Hawks on the Rebel 31 with a first down.

Henry picked up another 11 yards in two runs, and then Santiago rushed for 16 yards in two rushes, placing the Hawks on the two yard line.

Henry took the call and made the run to paydirt with 8:34 remaining in the game.

The conversion by Glass was no good, and the Hawks still trailed 13-12.

Pearl River's Harris ran the kickoff back to the Rebel 45 yard line, and then the Rebels began what appeared to be a run to paydirt.

Craddock did most of the yard gaining for the Rebels, highlighted by an 18 yard sweep to the HNC 39 yard line.

Craddock ran for two to the 25 yard line three plays later, but the following play was broken and the Rebels fumbled, Glass pouncing on the loose ball to end the drive.

Henry gained 20 yards on a run up the middle, but the Hawks were penalized for a mouthpiece not being in place.

Santiago then rushed for 36 yards to put the HNC eleven on the Pearl River 25 yard line with a first down.

Devaughn picked up another 11 yards and another first down, but a personal foul put them back on the eight yard line.

FROM FEATHERS TO COILS...

PEOPLE ONCE ENTRUSTED THEIR WEARY BONES TO MATTRESSES MADE OF CORN-HUSKS OR HORSEHAIR OR GOOSE FEATHERS. THE RULE OF THUMB WAS: "THE SOFTER THE STUFFING THE BETTER THE BED."

TODAY, THE MOST COMFORTABLE MATTRESSES ARE BUILT AROUND COILSPRINGS, MADE OF ONE OF MAN'S STRONGEST AND HARDEST MATERIALS... STEEL WIRE.

STEEL WIRE INNERSPRINGS FLEX IN PROPORTION TO THE WEIGHT UPON THEM. THEY STORE AND RELEASE ENERGY PERPETUALLY. THIS GIVES UNIFORM SUPPORT WITHOUT "BOTTOMING OUT" SO THE MATTRESS ALWAYS RECOVERS ITS ORIGINAL SHAPE QUICKLY AND STAYS COMFORTABLE AND GOOD LOOKING.

BOOK REVIEW

RUNWAYS

The Bantam edition of Elizabeth Swados' musical play RUNWAYS, recently a Broadway hit, includes an introduction by Joseph Papp, dozens of photographs of the performances and complete lyrics.

RUNWAYS is a theatrical exploration of the ways young people have invented to survive loneliness and rage, family problems, false heroes and the world. Elizabeth Swados author, composer and director, is one of the major new talents on the theatrical stage.

At 27, she's won two Obie Awards and an Outer Critics Circle Award. RUNWAYS by Elizabeth Swados ISBN 0-553-13390-X. $2.50. Drama 224 pp.

Solar dealer explains tax

Federal solar tax credits can in effect lower down payments for a new home, according to Dix Ashman of Waveland, local solar energy entrepreneur.

The tax credits equal 30 percent on the first $2,000 spent for a solar installation and 20 percent on the next $8,000. Ashman cited as an example a $50,000 conventional home requiring a $5,000 down payment. The same home with a solar water heater costing $2,500 would be priced at $52,500, and a 10 percent down payment would be $5,250.

"But once the tax refund of $700 is received, the net effect is to lower the down payment to $4,550 or $450 less than the down payment for the conventional home," said Ashman.

"Often the monthly savings of the solar system are more than the cost of financing the system through the mortgage, so the homebuyer is on a positive cash flow basis from the very first year," he added. As an example, Ashman said in Hancock County the monthly cost of financing the solar system is about $18 and monthly savings on electricity bills for heating domestic hot water could be $24 or more.

"At the present time our firm is installing a solar hot water system along with collectors, controls, etc. for heating one of the most energy efficient homes in Mississippi now nearing completion in Waveland," Ashman continued.

"Solar energy is here, it works, it's dependable, it saves energy cost and is reasonable to install," Ashman feels.

The Sea Coast Echo Religion

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale
and Ruth Stafford Peale

I tried my husband actually to me. He has a very and ornery attitude and everything that he is drinking he temper. No one believe the things he
to me. I run and hide, which is what I am doing now.
Because of a "heart" condition
I am not able to do physical work around the house and this is my life if I can't. My husband advise me to keep up my outside activities in church and volunteer hospital work. But I am going on 75 years old and cannot do this work. I keep all this my self and I am plain tired.

My husband and I hiding is a question as to how to handle this situation. I show of quiet, and I am demonstrating strength could very well be the best procedure for dealing with such a person as you describe. Give no heed to his sneering talk. Be calm and patient, and slough off all his sneering things he says.
Since he couldn't care less about me, may do more to control him than your present and hide technique. Your husband's advice is sound and valuable. Follow it. Be happy. Live your own life, and I am to be alone
I love my 70-year-old father-in-law. He is a real sweet person. But ever since he came to live with us my husband and I haven't had a weekend alone. There are other children who could invite him for a weekend if they would. But they come by on Sunday and visit for a few hours. My husband and I both work, and Saturday is my housecleaning day. So all we get to do is go to church on Sunday and then visit with his family. We can't find an answer.

A. A good honest talk with the other children seems indicated. Almost always in every family it is the more generous and docile son or daughter upon whom the others depend to take care of the old folks. In a kindly and friendly manner, get them to take your father-in-law now and then, and it should be at regular intervals.
Wants this baby
Q. Two years ago I had a miscarriage and felt so upset about it. Now I am 3 months pregnant, and I want this baby so badly and so does my husband. I'm so afraid of losing it. I have never really understood how to put religion to work for me. I pray a lot that I can keep this child and that it will be healthy. Is it wrong for me to ask God for something like this? Am I being selfish?

A. Of course it is not wrong, nor are you being selfish. You are entirely normal.

Shift your thinking from fear to faith. See or picture yourself as having a beautiful, wonderful baby. Drop any negative thoughts. Do not surround the unborn child with a negative thought climate. Protect it, beginning now, with positive thoughts.
Thank God for your baby and trustingly know and affirm that you are going to have a beautiful child.

Surrounding it with positive forces will bring about a positive result.

THE DOCTRINE OF PREDESTINATION, like the doctrines of election and foreordination, is a Bible doctrine, a divine truth and an eternal principle. Upon this immutable principle rests the eternal security of the believer in Jesus Christ.

The glorious doctrine of predestination seems to be a cause of confusion and free moral agency, like all other Bible doctrines, are in complete harmony.

The doctrine of predestination does not say that certain individuals are "forbidden" to be saved.
Neither does it say that salvation will be imposed upon some.

The predestination of believers simply points out that the destiny of repentant believers in Jesus Christ was determined before the foundation of the world.

According as he hath chosen us in him (in Christ)
before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love: having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will, to the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us "accepted in the beloved" (Eph. 1:4-6).

Let us remember that God's foreknowledge and his will are two different things; but they are completely and gloriously compatible. God is "not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance" (II Pet. 3:9; I Tim. 2:4).

On the other hand, his foreknowledge takes note of the melancholy fact that some will not be saved, because they will not believe on the Lord Jesus Christ as their Saviour.

Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine. Oh what a foretaste of glory divine. "It was ordained before the foundation of the world that all in Christ would have eternal life. "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Cor. 5:17).

Election is by grace; and all the redeemed are assured a part in the first resurrection (rapture) at the second coming of Christ" (John 6:37-40; 14:1-3; I John 3:1-2).

Little wonder that the Apostle Paul declare: "What shall we say to these things (the great doctrines of predestination, justification, foreordination and election)?
If God be for us, who can be against us? (Rom. 8:28-34).
Look up, my friend! Have faith in God! Eph. 1:2-14;
Rom. 8:28-34; 10:9-10; John 1: 11-14; 3:14-17, 36; 6:37-40.

Fresh California Table Grapes Add Elegance To Ocean Perch and Pasta Main Dish

When just the two of you would like to enjoy a leisurely dinner without spending much time in the kitchen, try Linguini del Mare. While the linguini bubbles to a dente readiness, frozen Ocean Perch from the icy waters of the North Atlantic simmers to juicy succulence in rich red (canned) spaghetti sauce. Spiced with dried herbs and wine, it's a high-protein, freezer-to-table entree ready in less than 30 minutes.

Complement the fish and pasta with a bowlful of colorful, crisp, sprightly-tasting California table grapes.
Choose green, red, and blue-black grapes for an elegant, delicious, change-of-pace side dish that can also double as dessert. (A cup of grapes contains a mere 100 calories!)

LINGUINI DEL MARE
1-lb. pkg. frozen North Atlantic Ocean Perch
1 32-oz. jar spaghetti sauce with mushrooms
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 teaspoon tarragon
2 tablespoons white wine (optional)
1/2 lb. linguini
Grated Parmesan cheese

Allow frozen fish to stand at room temperature 15 minutes, then cut in large chunks. Place in heavy saucepan with spaghetti sauce, seasonings and wine; simmer 8 to 10 minutes or until fish becomes opaque and flakes easily with a fork. Cook linguini in 3 quarts salted boiling water 6 to 7 minutes or just until tender. Drain and top with Ocean Perch/tomato sauce. Serve with grated Parmesan.
4 servings.

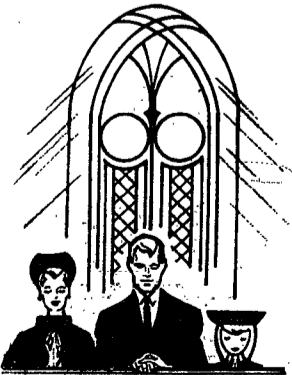

Baptism

Leigh and Laura Strong, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M.
Strong of Ocean Springs, were baptized Sunday, November 18 in Our Lady of the Gulf
Catholic Church, Bay St.
Louis, with Rev. Louis Lohan officiating.

Godparents for Alyson are a sister-in-law Mrs. Mary Murphy of Vancleave, Miss.,

and a paternal cousin Donnie Strong, Bay St. Louis, and for Laura, a paternal uncle Mike Strong of Gulfport and a maternal aunt Mrs. Karen Hayley of Picayune.

Following the ceremony a family gathering was held at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Anna Strong in Bay St. Louis.

Pass Christian Carnival Association names 50th anniversary candidates

BENNIE ULRICH

MRS. ROSE LIVELY

BOB RIPPEOTOE

MRS. GINNY MARIE

Candidates for rulers of the 50th Anniversary of the St. Paul's Carnival Association in Pass Christian were announced at a recent cocktail party at St. Paul's School by Sam Armato, president.

Team Number 1 will be Bob Rippetoe and Mrs. Ginny Marie.

Team Number 2 will consist of Bennie Ulrich Jr. and Mrs. Rose Lively.

Rippetoe is involved in real estate and mortgages with Jourdan Ridge Enterprises, Inc.

He is a native of Liberal, Ka., and has been a resident of Pass Christian eight years. He is married to Patsy, co-owner of Patsy's Package Store, they have one child, Robin.

Mrs. Marie, owner of Beachcomber Lounge is a native of Minnesota and resident of Pass Christian for ten years. She is the wife of August Marie, grand duke of last year's carnival.

Mrs. Marie is the mother of five children—Ricky, Wayne, Cheryl, Steven and Laura. Bennie Ulrich Jr. is a lifelong resident of Pass Christian and is a longshoreman with Sealand Terminal, Inc.

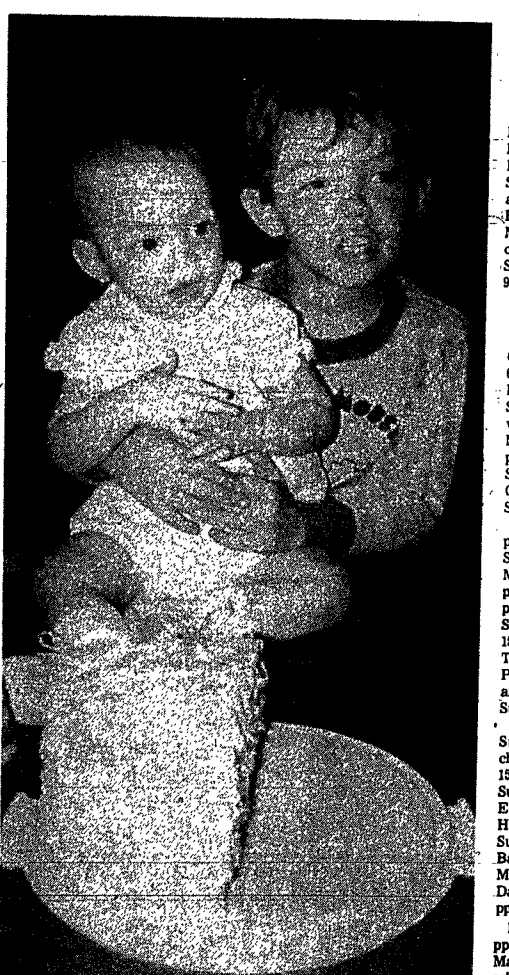

He is married to Earlene and is father of four children—David, Kenneth, Stevie and Cathy.

Mrs. Lively is a native of Biloxi, a housewife and mother of four boys, two of whom attend St. Paul's School.

Mrs. Lively is married to James L. Lively Sr. They lived in Pass Christian four years.

Pre-Activity parties will be held until scheduled activities begin Jan. 11.

All money raised by the Carnival Association will be used to benefit St. Paul's School in Pass Christian.

HALF-BIRTHDAY—Patricia Leanne Baldree, 6 mos., is joined by brother Jimmy Baldree, 4, at a Nov. 3 celebration of her half-birthday. Jimmy decorated the half-cake for the occasion.

V A Briefs

Q—I was disabled as a result of service during the Vietnam War and convalescence required a number of years. Now I understand I am ineligible for full educational entitlement under the GI Bill because of the 10-year delimiting date. Is this true?

A—No. If your disabilities were severe enough to prevent you from attending school during the 10 years following your discharge, you may be granted an extension of your delimiting date. Contact your nearest VA office for assistance.

Q—Does the Veterans Administration provide job finding assistance for veterans?

A—VA provides information about job wants, on-the-job and apprenticeship training opportunities, etc., through all VA regional offices.

Tuberculosis quiz identifies disease

TB or not TB, that is the question; but what are the answers? The Mississippi Lung Association offers answers to the most frequently asked questions concerning tuberculosis.

True or false? TB is contagious.

True or false? Once you have TB, you will probably be sick the rest of your life?

True or false? A cough that hangs on could be TB?

True or false? Certain climates can help cure TB.

The Mississippi Lung Association says it's true that TB is contagious or infectious. However, this is only true before treatment begins. Shortly after drug treatment starts, the person becomes noninfectious and unable to spread germs.

It's not true that you will be sick the rest of your life if you develop TB. Medications can help you recover completely from the disease. Most people who have TB take medication while they continue to work, stay with their families and lead normal lives today.

Yes, it's true that a cough can be a symptom of TB. But it can indicate many other things, too, not necessarily TB. Any of these symptoms of TB should be checked out with a doctor - chronic cough; feeling tired all the time; weakness; unexplained weight loss; loss of appetite. Spitting up blood is a sign of trouble that demands immediate attention.

Most patients with TB or any other lung problem are not benefited by changing the place of residence to a region with a warm, dry climate. TB has not yet been conquered. There were 30,000 cases last year and another 30,000 Americans will probably develop TB this year.

To find out more about tuberculosis or any lung disease, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, the Christmas Seal People, P.O. Box 9865, Jackson, Mississippi 39206. They care about every breath you take.

Women veterans plan organization

An organizational meeting of all former WAAC and WAC Vets who are interested in helping to form a chapter in Mississippi is planned for Nov. 29 at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James Wingate, 409 Gardenia Street, Biloxi.

Anyone interested can call 388-7127 or come on the 29th and bring a copy of her discharge.

To be eligible, the veteran must have been a member of the WAAC or WAC, and have an honorable discharge.

FATAL SNAKES

Of the different varieties of North American snakes, only the coral snake, copperhead, cottonmouth water moccasin, and rattlesnakes are capable of delivering fatal bites to humans, says the National Wildlife Federation.

Navy commissions ship for Pacific

The 24th ship of the series of 31 SPRUANCE-Class destroyers designed and being built by Litton Industries' Ingalls Shipbuilding division was commissioned into active U.S. Navy service in Pascagoula recently.

The 7,800-ton, 563-foot-long HARRY W. HILL (DD-986), under command of Commander J.J. Hogan of Manchester, N.H., joins eleven other ships of the class now operating with the Pacific Fleet based in San Diego, Calif. Twelve more jet engine-powered SPRUANCE-Class destroyers are operating with the Atlantic Fleet.

Adm. Jerauld Wright (ret), former Commander-in-Chief, Atlantic and U.S. Atlantic Fleet, and Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, was principal speaker at the commissioning ceremony. The ship is named in honor of the late Adm. Harry W. Hill, a World War II naval force commander who led the amphibious assaults on the Japanese-held Pacific bastions of Tarawa and Iwo Jima.

The 25th ship of the class, O'BANNON (DD-987), is scheduled for delivery later this month. Five other destroyers have been launched at Ingalls and will be delivered to the Navy at a rate of one a month into next spring.

The SPRUANCE-Class destroyers, largest U.S. ships of the type ever built, are designed primarily for antisubmarine warfare. Fast, highly maneuverable and extremely quiet, they are the first major U.S. combat ships to be powered by gas turbine engines. Four marine jet engines produce more than 80,000 shaft horsepower to drive each ship at speeds in excess of 30 knots.

In addition to antisubmarine warfare, the SPRUANCE-Class destroyers are capable of such missions as shore bombardment, support of amphibious assaults, surveillance and tracking of hostile surface ships and blockade duty. Basic armament includes deck guns, torpedoes and antisubmarine rockets. Each ship also can carry two ASW helicopters. Other weapon systems, such as Harpoon surface-to-surface missiles and Sea Sparrow surface-to-air missiles are being installed aboard each destroyer following a six-month shakedown period.

YOU AND YOUR PET

A Delta State University entomologist and a Cleveland veterinarian have submitted a case study they believe will add significantly to the knowledge of a rare, sometimes fatal canine disease that recently was reported for the first time in Mississippi.

The disease, Ehrlichiosis, is transmitted by the Brown Dog Tick, and affects the circulatory system of domestic and wild canines. So rare is its occurrence that little literature exists on the illness and it is seldom suspected in routine diagnoses.

However, Dr. Frank Branch Jr., doctor of veterinary medicine, began suspecting a severe case of the malady in a registered Irish Setter found near Cleveland in early September and reported his findings to Dr. Johnny D. Ouzts, associate dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at Delta State University.

A blood sample from the Setter was sent to the University of Illinois which confirmed the disease Oct. 1 after running additional laboratory tests.

The animal was transferred to the teaching hospital of the School of Veterinary Medicine at Mississippi State University for continued observation and treatment.

Ouzts and Branch were asked to submit a report on the case study to "Veterinary Medicine and Small Animal Clinician," a professional journal interested in expanding the available literature on Ehrlichiosis and alerting other veterinarians to its symptoms and possibility of occurrence.

Symptoms of the disease, which is not transmissible to humans, include nose bleed, weight loss, high temperature, severe lethargy and severe anemia, said Ouzts.

Most susceptible are large species of dogs, especially hunting dogs and others permitted to roam widely.

"While the disease is rare, its carrier, the Brown Dog Tick, is the most common species of tick," Ouzts said. "Ehrlichiosis has been detected in Florida and Texas, and one case was found in Arkansas in 1977," Ouzts said, "but a review of literature revealed that no cases have been reported in Mississippi."

Branch and Ouzts agreed the Mississippi case presented no cause for alarm since the disease is detected in a blood test and treatment is relatively simple in its early stages.

However, they agreed that suspicious dog owners should take their animals to a veterinarian if symptoms occur because Ehrlichiosis can progress from a mild form to severe chronic, possibly resulting in mortality within 60 to 120 days.

Treatment ranges from injection of an antibiotic to whole blood transfusions, depending on the severity of the affliction.

Biloxi High among nation's top tv users

Biloxi High School has received national recognition from the Television for Learning Office of the Public Broadcasting Service in Washington, D.C., for its successful use of instructional television.

One of six selected secondary schools in the United States, Biloxi High School will be featured at the National Association of Secondary Principals Miami Convention in January.

Dr. Olon Ray, superintendent of education, Biloxi Municipal Separate School District, said, "We are pleased to be selected as a national model for exemplary instructional television utilization. Educational television has added a new dimension to our instructional program. Its value has been demonstrated by wide acceptance and utilization by a great majority of our staff. There are very few areas of our school program on which educational television is not having a direct positive influence. We feel that our investment in ETV has been one of our wisest expenditures."

"Making ITV an Integral Part of the Secondary School Curriculum" is to be the theme of Biloxi High's presentation. Participating in the program will be Dr. Ray, Ann Denison, media specialist at Biloxi High, and Joan Haynie, utilization specialist at Mississippi ETV.

Their session will focus on the roles of the administrator, media specialist, classroom teacher, and the Mississippi

ETV Network in making instructional television an effective resource in the secondary school curriculum. Other schools that were selected in addition to Biloxi High School were from Kentucky, Virginia, South Carolina, New York and Iowa.

August 15, 1979
Honorable Mayor and Councilmen
City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and the general long term debt group of accounts of the City of Bay St. Louis,
Mississippi, for the year ended
September 30, 1978, listed in the foregoing table of contents. Except as explained in the following paragraph our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
The payroll computations and related payroll expenditures are based upon time and attendance records. These records were insufficient to substantiate the amount of salaries as shown on the Statements of Revenues and Expenditures of the various funds. The nature of the deficiency was one that could not have been satisfied by the application of alternative procedures, because the validity of the payroll computations depends upon accurate time and attendance records.
The City has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and accordingly a statement of general
fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.
In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary to the payroll expenditures, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly the financial position of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi at September 30, 1978, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year except for the change, with which we concur, in reporting sales tax revenue as described in Note 2 to the financial statements.

MOORE & POWELL
Certified Public Accountants
Biloxi, Miss.
August 15, 1979
Honorable Mayor and Councilmen
City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and
the general long term debt group of accounts of the City of Bay St. Louis,
Mississippi, for the year ended
September 30, 1978, listed in the foregoing table of contents. Except as explained in the following paragraph our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of
the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.
The payroll computations and related payroll expenditures are based upon time and attendance
records. These records were insufficient to substantiate the amount
of salaries as shown on the Statements of Revenues and Expenditures of the various funds. The nature of the deficiency was one that could not have been satisfied by the application of alternative
procedures, because the validity of
the payroll computations depends upon accurate time and attendance
records.
The City has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and
accordingly a statement of general
fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is
not included in the financial report.
In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary to the payroll expenditures, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly the
financial position of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi at September 30, 1978, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted
accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year except for the change, with which we concur, in reporting sales tax revenue as described in Note 2 to the financial statements.
